Features

Tix features an easy-to-use interface, a robust reporting suite, marketing tools to help keep your customers engaged, and the ability for you to access all of your ticket sales and donation information in one place.
It's ticketing software designed with you in mind.

Easy Integration

Tix seamlessly integrates into your box office operations. The Tix system is easy to learn, and teach - you'll have your box office staff trained in no time. Online ticket sales take place on a private label page that is designed to look and feel like your website. It can be customized to have the same look and feel of your existing web site, complete with your logos, banners, links, fonts, and colors.

Merchant Account Flexibility

We offer two ways to process credit cards through our ticketing system. You can either use your merchant account, or ours. In order to use your own merchant account, it must include a compatible e-commerce payment gateway. Tix is compatible with over 30 different e-commerce payment gateways including Authorize.net, Cybersource, Global Gateway, Virtual Merchant, Stripe, PayPal and many more.

Credit Card Processing

If you wish to use the Tix merchant account we charge an additional fee of 5% of the ticket price for credit card processing. Tix does not charge an additional fee if you use your own merchant account.

Payment Schedule

When using your merchant account for credit card processing, ticket revenue goes directly into your account within 48-72 hours after each ticket purchase. We then invoice you for our fees. When using our merchant account for credit card processing, we send you a check the week after the event.

Set Your Own Fees

All of our fees can be passed along to the ticket buyer. This enables your organization to use our service at no cost. You may also include some, or all, of our fees into the ticket price. It's up to you.

Ticket Printing & Mailing

Tix can print and mail tickets directly to your ticket buyers. There is a single $3.00 shipping and handling fee applied to each order when we print and mail tickets for you. We can also print tickets and mail them directly to you for $.20 per ticket plus shipping. There are no shipping and handling fees applied to Will Call orders or orders in which we do not print and/or mail the tickets.

Low, Low Service Fees

Our service fees remain among the lowest in the ticketing industry. Pass those savings along to your patrons and watch your ticket sales increase!
